Top Nature Sights in Salpausselkä UNESCO Global Geopark

A landscape created by water

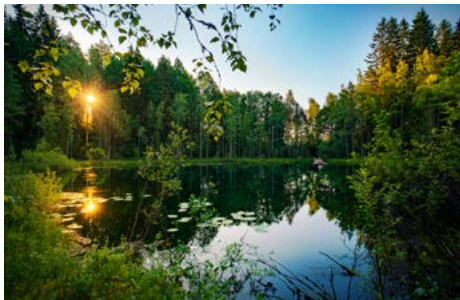

A UNESCO Global Geopark has sites and landscapes of international geological significance. The Salpausselkä UNESCO Global Geopark covers practically the whole Lahti region. The Salpausselkä ridges are outstanding ice-marginal formations laid down by ancient meltwater streams at the end of the Ice Age. They stretch across southern Finland and are at their most impressive within the area of Salpausselkä Geopark. Together with the narrow eskers fanning out to the north, outcrops of bedrock nearly two billion years old, and hundreds of sparkling lakes, they form a breathtaking natural mosaic unique to this region. The area features a great number of magnificent nature sites. Visit Lahti recommends for instance the following:

Pulkkilanharju

One of the most scenic routes in Finland goes through the 8-kilometre-long Pulkkilanharju ridge from Vääksy to the municipality Sysmä by the route number 314. Part of Pulkkilanharju Esker belongs to Päijänne National Park. Visitors can explore the esker nature on a nature trail of about two kilometres that is mostly easy terrain. The nature trail begins at Karisalmi rest area by going under Karisalmi Bridge to the other side of the road and then heading up to the esker. Pulkkilanharju is also a popular destination for cyclists and it can also be reached by public transport from Lahti. In summer time there are two cafés – kiosks operating on the esker. (30 km from the Lahti city centre)

Lahti Sports Centre and Salpausselkä Recreational Forest

With its unique, diverse landscape of ridges, kettle holes, steep slopes and raised beaches the Sports Centre and the surrounding area of the Salpausselkä ridge is one of the most significant geosites within the Salpausselkä UNESCO Global Geopark. There are numerous outdoor trails in this area. One of them the urban nature trail "Lehmusreitti", also runs by Häränsilmä which is a beautiful kettle pond right next to the Sports Centre with its iconic ski jumping towers. The Lahti Sports Centre area has several kettle holes, which give it its distinctive terrain, great for winter sports. (1.5 km from the Lahti city centre)

Linnaistensuo mire

Linnaistensuo mire, located only seven kilometres from the centre of Lahti, is a nationally valuable raised bog. The tranquil mire landscape can be admired from the duckboard trail crossing it. Linnaistensuo mire can be reached along Korvenrannantie or Linnaistentie and Ilolantie roads. The paths leading to the duckboard trail are marked on the trees with yellow paint. Linnaistensuo mire is an ideal place for a very easy hiking trip. (8 km from the Lahti city centre)

Pirunpesä Gorge (The Devil's Nest) and Tiirismaa Hill

The monumental Pirunpesä Gorge is a cliff fissure cutting through the quartzite rocks of Tiirismaa hill. Pirunpesä, which translates literally as Devil's Nest, is one of the most important geosites of the Salpausselkä UNESCO Global Geopark. A marked hiking trail of 4,5 km passes by Pirunpesä. The trail can be reached from the parking area at Arvi Hauvosen tie. (7 km from the Lahti city centre)

Virtaankoski rapids

Virtaankoski rapids in Sysmä is a unique restored destination, offering experiences in nature, fishing and cultural heritage. Before the restoration a dam at Virtaankoski rapids prevented fish from migrating upstream. The restoration project was completed in 2025 and the old dam was removed. The rapids now offer excellent possibilities for fishing, canoeing, nature tourism and events. The Lintan Koski-kahvila café, located beside the rapids, is open during the summer season, while Virtaa Manor as a local cultural heritage site offers comfortable cottage accommodation. (56 km from Lahti)

The museums in Heinola

Heinola, the second largest town of the Lahti region by the Kymijoki river has three interesting museums.

The Aschan House (Lääninkivalteri Aschanin talo), or the former home of the family of chief constable Aschan is an urban home milieu from the 18th century.

The Heinola City Museum (Heinolan kaupunginmuseo) is located in a charming wooden building dating back to the year 1872. The story of the exhibition "Made in Heinola" takes the visitor from the prehistoric times of Heinola all the way to the post-WWII era.

The Heinola Art Museum (Heinolan taidemuseo) is located in an Empire-style museum building originally built in 1830 as the home of merchant Aleksander Toropoff's (1780–1852) family. The collection of the Museum consists of approximately 1,100 works of art.

Itä-Hämeen museo

The Eastern Häme museum (Itä-Hämeen museo) in Hartola, the northernmost municipality of the Lahti region is located in Koskipää Manor, on the green banks of the Tainionvirta River. Top 5 Attractions in the Lahti Region

Places to visit and discover

Lahti Harbour

Lahti Harbour located only 10-15 minutes by foot from the city centre is the living room of the locals with a lot of cosy cafés, restaurants and bars. Here you can enjoy the atmosphere of the Finnish Lakeland by the shores of Lake Vesijärvi and make a cruise to Lake Päijänne. In the Lahti harbour you can also find the magnificent concert and congress centre Sibelius hall, a modern piece of wood architecture. In the surroundings of the harbour you also find a few pieces of wooden monuments and constructions which together compose the Wood Architecture Park. One of them is the Café Piano Pavilion by the Sibelius Hall where you can enjoy the great view to the Lake Vesijärvi. The iconic wooden "Lahti" letters along the harbour promenade were established in 2021 to commemorate Lahti as the European Green Capital.

Lanu Sculpture Park & Musical Fountain

By the Lahti letters in the harbour promenade you can climb up to the Kariniemi park by the stairs with 180 steps. On the hill you can find the Lanu Sculpture Park with fifteen big sculptures created by the artist Olavi Lanu. The sculptures blend well into the scenery of the park and have gradually developed a coat of moss just like the artist wanted. The musical fountain is located in the picturesque park of the small Vesijärvi lake. Musical performances run daily in summer time.

Sports Centre of Lahti

The three iconic ski jumping towers of the Lahti sports centre are one of the most instagrammable places in the city. From June to August, the top of the highest ski jumping tower is open to the public every day. The sports centre is also one of the most significant geosites within the Salpausselkä UNESCO Global Geopark. It lies on the First Salpausselkä Ridge. The beautiful nature with diverse landscape of ridges, kettle holes, steep slopes and raised beaches suits perfectly for sports and offers excellent conditions for outdoor activities all year round.

Art nouveau and modernism in the Lahti city centre

Two famous Finnish architects Eliel Saarinen and Alvar Aalto have left their mark in the city centre of Lahti. Lahti City Hall designed by architect Eliel Saarinen was completed in 1912. It represents the Late Art Nouveau, or Jugend, style. Church of the Cross, Ristinkirkko, designed by academician Alvar Aalto is the main church of the city. The church was built in 1978.

Old Vääksy Village and Vääksy canal

The Vääksy canal, built in 1868-71, unites Lake Vesijärvi with Lake Päijänne. Situated only 30 minutes by car from the Lahti city centre the idyllic Vääksy village by the canal is an ideal destination for a day trip from Lahti. The village has many interesting boutiques, shops, cafés and restaurants and besides the beautiful nature around the canal you can also visit for instance the Päijännetalo which is a free time fishing museum offering a great overview of sweet water fishing. A good idea is to hop on a lake cruise boat from Lahti and travel to Vääksy canal by water. Päijänne Cruises Hilden's (p. 29) boat on the route Lahti-Heinola stops also at Vääksy. You can spend the day in Vääksy and then take a local bus back to Lahti.

FINNISH SCHOOL DAY

The Finnish School Day program is organised in one of the Lahti region schools, which provides teaching according to the national core curriculum for grades 1–9. Some schools provide teaching for all grades, others only for grades 1–6, for instance. The aim is to organise the Finnish School Day program so that the visitors and the Finnish schoolchildren are as close in age as possible.

In the Finnish School Day program, the group learns more about the everyday life and learning environment of Finnish schoolchildren. Diverse learning packages are created together with the Finnish class hosting the visitors, offering both parties the opportunity to learn more about, for instance, the geography, nature, culture, music, society, customs and language of their respective countries. The Finnish education principle of “learning by doing” is emphasised: everyone can participate in the program and English skills do not play a key role in the activities. Physical education, music, handicrafts or home economics may also be part of the day's program.
